New Website Improves the Search for Military and Veteran Resources and Benefits

Fort Lauderdale, August 5, 2019 – A new website has launched to help the Military and Veteran community more easily connect with the resources and assistance they require. Patriot Rated offers a single access point to resources and service providers that support the active and post-military life of our nation's heroes.

According to the most recent statistics from the U.S. Census, there are 18.2 million Veterans in the United States. While our country has thousands of resources to assist active Military, Veterans, Reserve and Guard service members, their spouses, families and caregivers, the search for benefits and assistance can be challenging and time-consuming. Patriot Rated serves as a hub for the Military and Veteran community to find the specific service providers and benefits programs they need.

The website was created by Carmelita Resh, a Military spouse and the Founder and CEO of Patriot Placements, a nonprofit that provides employment services to Veterans. While helping an Army combat Veteran who had lost his apartment to a fire, Carmelita realized that not all organizations were responsive or dependable in helping active Military and Veterans. After six months and many fruitless searches, Carmelita was inspired to create Patriot Rated, a single resource for the Military and Veteran community to search nonprofits and organizations for benefits, resources, products, services and military discounts.

The free online service is accessible 24 hours a day, seven days a week, from anywhere in the world. For example, an active duty, deployed service member could use Patriot Rated to find a mechanic for his Military spouse in Fort Lauderdale. Businesses – in particular, Veteran-owned businesses – are encouraged to advertise their products, services and Military discounts on the site. Once a user joins Patriot Rated, he or she can research providers and resources, read reviews and seek recommendations from other community members.

Patriot Rated was developed as the Military and Veteran community platform of Patriot Software Group, LLC, a company founded and operated by Carmelita to provide quality custom websites and software solutions for small and large organizations. Her goal is “to inspire change in how we support our Military and Veteran community.”
